Day 1: Arrival in Reykjavik

Centrally located in Reykjavik, steps from Laugavegur (main street), this 4-star hotel is only few blocks away from Reykjavik Harbour and Hallgrimskirkja (Iconic postcard church).

Upon arrival, check-in and relax.

NOTE: Due to early arrival of flights coming from the U.S booking previous night (Tuesday Sept 1st) is recommended.

Late this afternoon we gather in the lobby to meet the other boyzz, your local guide and tour director. We will start exploring our surroundings on foot. Our first stop will be to visit The House of Collections, which is a part of the National museum and has always been considered one of Iceland's most beautiful buildings. Then we walk to the Harpa Music center and Hallgrimskirkja church. Here we see the Sun Voyager sculpture. The Modern glass honeycomb concert hall & conference center, home to the national opera & symphony designed by famed artists Olafur Eliasson.

The Sun Voyager is a sculpture by Jón Gunnar Árnason, it is described as a dreamboat.

Bus transfer to Hallgrimskirja. Situated on a hilltop near the centre of Reykjavík, the church is one of the city's best-known landmarks.

We will walk back on the main street to Sumac for our welcome dinner. Sumac draws inspiration from the Middle East and North Africa.

Reykjavik, Iceland - Sep 3, 2026

Day 2: Reykjavik (Art & Amusement day)

🖼️ Reykjavik

Day 2: Reykjavik (Art & Amusement day)

Breakfast is served from 7:00 am at the hotel restaurant.

Today we visit The Icelandic Phallogological Museum: more than 200 penises & penile parts representing almost all Icelandic land & sea mammals. Continue with The Reykjavik Art Museum Hafnarhus - The museum exhibits work from leading Icelandic and international artists in Modern and Contemporary Art. It is also a platform for emerging talents. The exhibitions at Reykjavík Art Museum span history to our present day.

Cross the street for a visit to the Reykjavik Museum of Photography, this museum preserves about five million photographs by professional and amateur photographers, from around 1870 to the present century. The collection includes studio portraits, and industrial, advertising, press, landscape and family photographs.

Before lunch, we venture to Fly over Iceland: Be ready for the ride of your life, this is an attraction with motion seating & a wraparound screen, simulating flight over mountains & glaciers.

Lunch at LA PRIMAVERA: If you've never heard of Icelandic/Italian fusion, you're not the only one. But let us be the first to tell you that this combo is divine. Salt cod adds Icelandic flavor to Italian dishes like tagliatelle with chorizo and pine nuts, and the sleek, minimalist design of the restaurant reminds you that you're still in Reykjavik, not Italy.

This afternoon we visit the Living art Museum at the Marshall house. Living Art Museum is a not-for-profit, artist-run exhibition platform for innovative and experimental contemporary art. Kling and Bang Gallery is a nonprofit gallery featuring contemporary works from emerging & established, local & global artists. We make a quick stop at KIOSK for a glimpse of contemporary Icelandic fashion design. Visit the Reykjavik art museum Kjarvalsstaðir, it houses the works of one of Iceland's most influential and recognised artists, Jóhannes S. Kjarval. The exhibitions at Kjarvalsstaðir focus primarily on paintings and sculptures of the established masters of modern art. The building is a fine example of Nordic modernism.

Return to the hotel. Evening and dinner on your own to play. We recommend Grillmarkadurinn or Perlan. The concierge can assist with reservations.

Optional excursion: 7 step sunset ritual at Sky Lagoon

Pingvellir National Park, Iceland - Sep 4, 2026

Day 3: Reykjavik: Golden Circle

 Pingvellir National Park

Day 3: Reykjavik: Golden Circle

Day trip to visit Iceland's main attraction, the Golden Circle. It combines most of what Iceland has to offer, beautiful landscape, powerful geysers, and the most magnificent waterfall. Thingvellir National Park is a Geological phenomenon, standing on two tectonic plates that are gradually moving away from each other. Thingvellir is listed as a Unesco World heritage site. Home to a number of hot spouting geysers and the country's most famous waterfall, plummeting down 32 meters in two stages directly to the canyon below.

Lunch at Fridheimar tomato greenhouses: We will enjoy freshly made soup and bread at Fridheimar Geothermal Greenhouses and taste a unique dessert using ingredients grown in the greenhouses and of course.... Best bloody Mary in Iceland!

Return to the hotel. Remainder of the evening on your own. We recommend Mat bar (next to the hotel) The concierge can assist with reservations.

Reykjavik, Iceland - Sep 4, 2026

Vik, Iceland - Sep 5, 2026

Day 4: Reykjavik → Vik (natural wonders)

Day 4: Reykjavik → Vik (natural wonders)

Hotel check out. Board private coach to the Southern shore of Iceland towards the town of Vik. Waterfalls that make your jaw drop and black sandy beaches that go far beyond what the eye can see is just half of what you are about to witness on this tour. Our first stop will be Seljalandsfoss and Gljufrabui; Two waterfalls close to Thorsmorkvalley. Seljalandsfoss is of course famous because the ability to walk behind it.

Lunch at Skalakot horse farm ranch. Quaint restaurant set in a horse ranch at the foot of the Eyjafjöll Mountains. Next stop a short drive away is Skogarfoss waterfall. It is usually counted as one of Iceland 's most beautiful waterfall, it thunders down into a small canyon.

A 30-minute drive will take us to Dyrholaey, easily recognized due to the holes in the bottom of the cliff where the ocean flows under. The view from the top is magnificent, as you can see over the south shore to both directions and as far as the eyes can see south over the Atlantic Ocean. Continue to Reynisfjara black sand beach, take a stroll on the black sand and contemplate the waves of the north Atlantic break on the beach. Our natural wonders tour finishes at Halsanefshellir (cave) and Reynisdrangar. Then we drive to the quaint town of Vik, our base for two nights.

Check in Hotel Kría. Time to unpack and explore the town. Dinner at Sudur-Vik Restaurant. Perched on a hill, with a breathtaking view above the town of Vík, this quaint restaurant is a favorite with the townsfolk as well as travelers. From heaping steak sandwiches to Asian, they are perhaps surprisingly known for their fabulous curry dishes and locally made ice cream.

Glacier Lagoon, Iceland - Sep 6, 2026

Day 5: Vik → Glacier Lagoon

Day 5: Vik → Glacier Lagoon

Today we venture to Skaftafell and Jokulsarlon, may very well be the highlight of our trip. Skaftafell is a part of the biggest National Park in Iceland and offers unbelievable scenery. Jokulsarlon is a huge lagoon with floating icebergs, the brave can take a boat trip to get close to the icebergs. The canyon is about 2 km long and is about 100 meters deep. There is a hiking trail that follows the edges and gives you a beautiful view over the canyon. The various glacial tongues are flanked by jagged mountains, with the glacier-topped peak of Hvannadalshnjukur rising highest, or up 6921 ft, making it the highest point of Iceland.

Lunch at Fosshotel Glacier Lagoon. Zodiac ride - Boat ride on the ice lagoon. This is the perfect place to experience unspoiled nature and unique environment where huge icebergs calve off the largest glacier in Europe, the great Vatnajokull, and float around the lagoon in all shapes and colors.

Jokulsarlon lagoon and Diamond Beach: Jokulsarlon is a huge lagoon with floating icebergs, but in winter it often freezes over. Unlike a lake, a lagoon is a body of water that is connected to the ocean. As the icebergs exit the narrow channel at the mouth of the lagoon — a process that takes some time as the tides push them back in as well as draw them out, they break down further and eventually, they get swept out to sea or pushed up onto Diamond Beach. The beach is called Breiðamerkursandur, but the nickname Diamond Beach stuck, and for an obvious reason.

Day 6: Vik → Reykjavik

 Reykjavik

Day 6: Vik → Reykjavik

Hotel check out. Make sure to have a daypack with your swimsuit for the Blue Lagoon. We will enjoy a Geologist talk and live demonstration of volcanic eruptions and lava flow. This is the only place in the world where you can safely experience hot molten lava in close proximity! The spectacle recreates a volcano eruption, similar to what Eyjafjallajökull and Katla volcano are famous for, by pouring molten lava (1100°C / 2000°F) into the showroom and over ice. It is an epic battle between the elements and a unique opportunity to get close to red-hot lava, see it flowing, hear it sizzling, and feel the intense heat that radiates from it.

Depart for the small town of Stokkseyri.

Lunch will be self-paid a la carte: Lobster feast in a seaside restaurant.

After lunch, we continue to the iconic Blue Lagoon. These waters are rich in minerals that are meant to have healing powers for your skin. The Blue lagoon is something you may only experience once in a lifetime, so dip in and enjoy the hot water and white mud on your skin.

Your premium package at the Spa includes, robes, slippers, towels, a free drink at the in-lagoon bar (alcohol as well as smoothies) and three different face masks. We will allow for 1.5 hr. for you to soak in the radiant powers of geothermal seawater. Depart for Reykjavik. Check in at Canopy hotel.

Farewell dinner at Sjavargrillid Seafood Grill: Sjavargrillið was founded in the summer of 2011 by young chef Gústav Axel Gunnlaugsson and master chef/owner Lárus Gunnar Jónasson. While travelling the country looking for the real taste of Iceland, they found their inspiration for the menu and were able to collect decorative items for the restaurant along the way.
